The last two teachers mentioned will teach in the new schoolhouse near the dummy track. No school will be kept in the rock house down by the powder magazines. The trustees will pay the transportation to have the children residing in that locality brought up to the new schoolhouse.

Hyrum Parkin, of the South ward, died Friday morning, Aug. 18th, of bright's disease. He had been ailing most of the summer and only came in from Wasatch about three weeks ago. After arriving home, he continued to grow worse until the end came which, however, was rather earlier than was expected. Deceased was a native of England and forty-four years of age. The funeral services were held in the South ward meeting house on Monday at 2 p. m. and the remains interred in the Bountiful cemetery. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn his loss.

On Wednesday, Councilman Holbrook received a letter from his son, who is in Holland on a mission, in which he told how Elder Joseph Hogan lost his life. It states that he and Elder Francis, of Morgan county, were in the river Rhine bathing at 2:40 o'clock in the afternoon of Aug. 5th when the accident occurred. The following is an extract from the letter: "There are a great many elders here. He is now in his coffin and ready for burial but we will wait as long as possible before we do it, for word from home, which will be tomorrow before noon. The occurrence has cast a gloom over the whole mission and all feel very bad indeed." The letter was dated August 10th, 1899.

Mrs. Judith Warwick, widow of Richard Warwick who died not quite a year ago, passed away on Monday evening. Mrs. Warwick was ailing for about five years. She was born in Stratfieldsbury, Hampshire, England over seventy four years ago. She was married in her native land to James Harrison, who passed away when he was yet a young man and left her a widow with nine children to support. Thirteen children were born to them, only four of whom are now living. Subsequently she was again married, also in her native country, to Richard Warwick. Twins were born to them but they did not live. In 1861, she came to Utah with her husband and six children locating in Bountiful where she has always dwelt with the exception of three years that she resided in Woodruff. The funeral services were held at the meeting house, on Wednesday, Aug. 23rd, at 2 p. m. The speakers were Patriarch Judson Tolman, Elders C. R. Jones, Albert Shirley, Alfred Burningham and Richard Sedgwick. For many years, and in fact as long as she was able, the deceased followed nursing and obstetrics.
